

“A rainbow of voices” proclaim The Golden Rule, the invariant of civilized life,
the ethical cornerstone of Culture, the base of all Religions:
Wisdom we hold in Common.

THE GOLDEN RULE

The power of being in accordance with the Moral Law is that it endures, so that one may say, It is a possession of my ancestors which I have inherited.

Ptah-hotep 2880 B.C.E. Egypt

Do not do unto others all that which is not well for oneself.

Zoroaster 6th century B.C.E. Persia

Hurt not others with that which pains thyself.

Buddha 6th century B.C.E. India

Do not do unto others what you do not want others to do unto you.

Confucius 6th century B.C.E. China

Do not do unto others what you would not want others to do unto you.

Plato 5th century B.C.E. Greece

Do not do unto others which if done to thee would cause thee pain.

Mahābhārata 3rd century B.C.E. India

Do not do unto others what thou wouldst not they should do unto thee.

Rabbi Hillel 1st century B.C.E. Babylon

Do unto others as you would have others do unto you.

Jesus Christ 1st century C.E. Judea

None of you truly have the faith if you do not desire for your brother that which you desire for yourself.

Muhammad 6th century C.E. Mecca

Lay not on any soul a load which ye would not wish to be laid upon you and desire not for anyone the things you would not desire for yourself.

Bahá'u'lláh 19th century C.E. Iran
